

Prevent cancer with art & design

Each year, the Scottish Cancer Prevention Network searches Scotland's art and design schools for creative approaches to cancer prevention deserving of our prize.

From 'Exposed' - a UV-sensitive bracelet from Product Designer, Stuart Clark - to 'Obesity' - a sculpture from Fine Artist, Callum Reid - we're looking for projects in any medium which can help keep the conversation going on cancer prevention. Visit thescpn.org/art-prize to apply - make sure we don't miss your work.